I do not agree with the proposed changes. It will ensure that the most affluent continue to remain in power and further silence the poorest of society as this demographic are being grouped together, and these who are less likely to vote because they can't (they don't have the money to get ID) or because they're apathetic with not being represented sufficiently at present. Similarly, the most wealthy, who are most likely to vote (Conservative) and have holidays abroad and cars, will have their voice strengthened.
