My question is why does Trafford (with a population of 237k) has the same number of wards and councillors as Stockport (pop 294k)?

Bury (181k) has 17 wards and 51 councillors - surely Trafford should only have 19 or at most 20 wards? Reducing the size of the council would save some money and bring it into line with other areas - Oldham (same size) has 20 wards.
