I feel that the ward change would not be beneficial to anyone other than home owners who could sell their houses at a hugely inflated price. Everyone else would loose funding get higher tax bills and a ridiculous sense of injustice. The broomwood for instance has a lot of social housing that's filled with young already semi struggling families and upping anything could cause unnecessary poverty. The broomwood has in years past been a haven for young groups of teenagers but in more recent years has not ans has become a nice area with a community that stands together where those kids had access to the social centre and Internet cafe if they haven't got the funding they have now which is already scraping the barrel as funding is already low looses more where will the kids go then back to the streets and back to anti social. All because somebody waned more land in their wards. By all means change your wards but please leave the broomwood alone. Set it as its own community and leave well alone.
