The suggestion to form a new ward of "Western Parishes" is utterly ridiculous as Dunham and Warburton are entirely different in every way to Partington and Carrington. By merging 2 rural, heritage villages with 2 huge industrial and densely populated areas you are ensuring that the needs of the rural communities will be completely overlooked and the parishes of Warburton and Dunham will have no effective representation as all attention and efforts will be focused on the very densely populated areas of Carrington and Partington. The proposed ward of "Western Parishes" is huge in terms of geographic area and the communities and the needs of these parishes are entirely different and incompatible. I strongly object to the formation of this new ward and believe Dunham and Warburton are more closely linked to other wards such as Bowden that have strong heritage links and similar community needs.
