I think that the present boundaries are good. If they are changed to the proposed ones people who live in Matchborough will find that they are in different areas. Also it appears that the west side of the town has smaller sizes areas than the east side. I am not sure of the population sizes of the proposed new areas but, with the house building going on some areas will have less power. Also I am wondering what will this cost the Council as they are saying that they are very short of money and it will have a negative effect on the available money.
