Needless to say I am against the proposal to disconnect Harvington from Evesham. Evesham is just 4 miles away and Harvington is connected on all kinds of local levels and with a multitude of organisations. Trying to re-engineer it's boundary with Droitwich or Redditch is box ticking and tinkering of the most pointless and inept kind. Pack it in now and focus on issues that your populace actually pay you to focus on, traffic, crime, housing, employment etc etc
