In general the proposal to reduce the number of elected representatives is to be welcomed. In the area in which I live the LGBCE proposals will mean 43 Councillors to represent TMBC - a net loss of 11. My view is is not because of any political or other interest group belief. It is because I feel that such a reduction will mean the new Councillors will tend to have greater responsibility along with a new professionalism. I feel a wider span of responsibility will lead to better government.
