Comment text:

Dividing Thornaby on Tees between two constituencies is ridiculous. Thornaby borders Middlesbrough by land but is separated from Stockton on Tees by a river (Tees) that was once the boundary between Yorkshire and County Durham. The right and natural thing to do is place Thornaby in the Middlesbrough constituency. The boundary is literally a step difference between Thornaby and Middlesbrough and is the natural place for the whole three wards in the town to go to. A town the size of Thornaby having two MPs represent it is unnatural.
