Comment text:

I have lived in The Sands in Pilgrims Ward for over forty-five years and am unsurprisingly, very familiar with the surrounding villages. Not familiar at all, however, with Shalford. That might just as easily be a hundred miles away for any connection it might have. Ash and Normandy seem more like home territory than Shalford, the latter being half the distance from my address and Ash just walking distance. If it is necessary to include another village to qualify for a Councillor, perhaps Compton could be included within Pilgrims boundary.
