I would object to the proposed plan as it is ridiculous. People work hard to purchase houses classed currently as west derby at high prices to then be classed as dovecot. I have concerns that this will reduce house value and possibly affect future house sales. It is ridiculous that these properties purchased at high west derby prices and with owners paying higher council tax bills over the years to be subjected to this. Should the proposal go ahead the council tax band should also be reduced. I would also have concerns as to school places and insurance costs which is why people work and save so hard to purchase a house in such an area.
