I'm a resident on Mackie Avenue. The Estate was built in Patcham in the 1930's The entire estate should remain in the Patcham ward! To access the estate there is only one entrance and that is through the western end of Mackie ave. To drive from Hollingbury retail park to home, for example, I would have to drive through the 'new Patcham' and then back into my home in the proposed new Hollingbury and Carden area. A much more logical boundary would be Ladies mile road continuing to the Eastern end then through the reserve to the Roundabout over the A27. Ther Mackie estate has a long history in Patcham. Geographically with the hill and reserve it makes much more sense for the Estate to remain in Patcham. The first draft seemed to do this, so I don't know why it was changed for the second. Can I please voice my strongest disagreement to the proposal to remove the Mackie Estate from Patcham.
