Comment text:

I wish to raise strong objections to the Patcham boundaries in the draft proposals for Brighton and Hove wards. Patcham is a distinct district of Brighton, with its own specific community. To split the Mackie estate from the area of Patcham village, schools, and facilities bizarre. Having lived in Patcham for over 60 years, which is all my life, I feel that Brighton Councils proposed changes to the Patcham ward would appear to be vindictive against the people in the Patcham community.
