Please do not split Patcham as it is one of the best communities I know and I 've lived in Brighton all my life. I have never heard of Carden community that sounds like a political statement to me and not in the best interests of Patcham residents. We live perfectly well alongside Hollingbury Community. I lived previously in Mackie Avenue and it has always been in the Patcham area and now you are proposing to put it into Hollingbury. DONT DO IT! Westdene and Patcham have no connections at all by car or by bus and no community connections either as they are two very different and separate communities not like Patcham & Hollingbury who help each other out all the time. so it doesn't make sense to put Westdenen & Patcham together. Talk to any Patcham resident even if they live near Hollingbury and they will have a strong identity with Patcham as one Community, not split up as you are suggesting. Please let common sense prevail and don't split Patcham up. Keep to the first proposal 1 so we remain as one big beautiful community of Patcham & Hollingbury and don't split it up.
