Patcham is more of a village with a small and tight community and should remain so. It should not be put with Hollingbury. Patcham is being ruined at the moment with the Post Office plans.... Don't ruin it more by reducing it's status. If it has to be married up with another area, it should be Westdene as this is more in keeping with housing, green areas and community. Patcham wants to stay Patcham.. it has great history for Brighton and Hove. Don't forget it's heritage. Pair it with Westdene if necessary. I chose to live in Patcham as did everyone else ... not anywhere else.
