OBJECT. Firstly I think it's shocking that we haven't been made aware of this on a more direct scale, a letter or email, I had to come across this on social media, on the final day to have a say. Secondly, like most of the home owners in my area, we have all worked extremely hard to be able to afford to buy, then keep up with the cost of living in this area, but to now no that this may effect us in a negative way if we change catchments is extremely disappointing, and more importantly has NO positive impact what so ever. My daughters options for high school, which is only 2 years away will now also change which is a very big deal and for some people the reason why they buy in a certain area. We bought in Patcham for a reason and would like it to stay that way.
