My wife and I are totally opposed to the revised boundary changes and do not see why these are at all necessary. The Mackie Avenue estate is the beating heart of the Patcham community and always has been, I have lived in Patcham my entire life and have a real connection with the local schools, scout group, community centre and local traders. These things all have one thing in common. They have Patcham in their name. The proposed changes are decisive, negative and totally unnecessary and I know that the vast majority of Patcham residents feel the same.
