Comment text:

I would like to raise my whole-hearted objection to this boundary change which would see Patcham and it's long-standing and much-loved identity displaced. As an area it has its own micro identity within Brighton and proposals like this and the Royal Mail site proposal gives no consideration to the people that live here and who would not want either change to take place. Please think about us all that depend on our houses to sustain their values, especially in such trying times, which both proposals would damage and the detrimental effect on us not having Patcham represented as it currently is at council.
