Comment text:

I don't agree that Patcham area should change and be joined with west dean or hollingbury. Patcham has an identity of its own and this will disappear if the ward changes. My children have gone to Patcham schools and we have been proud to be part of the Patcham community and have been involved in all Patcham social events. This is part of our identity and this will disappear completely if our area of Patcham is combined with Hollingbury. I have been happy to be represented by Patcham counsellors and I object to losing this with these new changes. This important decision should be made by polling the actual residents of Patcham to provide an accurate representation of what the people who live here actually want. I and my family have lived here for over 20 years and we absolutely object to this change.
