I would NOT like to see the Lady Bay community merged into Trent. I feel Lady Bay has its own identity that has been shown time and time again with the huge amount of community events such as Lady Bay Gardens, Art trails, The Hook community orchards etc etc. The boundaries of the area are clear being separated from West Bridgford and the City by the River Trent and Radcliffe Road. It has a school, pub, PO, shops and functions as a village community which is very much dear to and desired by local residents who pull together. While I understand wanting to make equal the number of people represented, I feel in this case it will not serve the community well and is just a 'numbers game'. Lady Bay itself cannot really grow compared to some parts of West Bridgford because of the boundaries it has and I would definitely want it to stay that way and be represented in the way it currently is. There is not enough to be gained by merging.
