Comment text:

After living in Rushcliffe for 20 years, I still haven't a clue which ward I am in. The wards in West Bridgford are so small and the names are meaningless. But it doesn't make any difference anyway because I regularly cycle to eg East Bridgford and Keyworth and I think I ought to have a say in what is going on there. What is more important to me is that there is a councillor who will represent my views, and that means having proper proportional representation for the area as a whole rather than a first-past-the-post system for a ward where the typical household is at-least-one-car-per-adult.
