We have recently moved to Great Comberton having wanted to live here for many years. We have been very struck with the unity and shared community spirit that links the three 'hill villages' of Great Comberton, Little Comberton and Elmley Castle. Apart from the obvious 'what exactly is the point' this just strikes me as simply about local politicians gaining more voters in their proposed areas, the boundaries proposed are less clear than the current ones, don't make sense and it seems a total waste of time and money when there are far more important things that need focus. Why break up community links that have been in place for many years for little value other than bureaucracy. I can't find any other business case for this so please correct me if I have misinterpreted this and there is a good reason for the change.
