Comment text:

As a rural village, we should be clustered with other rural communities and historically that was the case prior to the local government reorganisation in Northamptonshire. Currently randomly clustered with the Town, Burton Latimer which is remote from us and not a neighbouring community with totally different needs and no synergies. We have currently have three ward councillors which is not a satisfactory situation. Historically Cransley, Loddington and surrounding villages have established connections and ties through schools, families and churches.
