Comment text:

Castle & Priory ward has the highest number of electors in the borough. It is a fairly compact area, the majority of voters in housing estates of similar character. If there have to be changes to balance numbers then perhaps the Foxyards estate on the north side of the Birmingham New Road, A4123, has a more natural affinity with Coseley East than Castle & Priory. On the other hand, the properties in St James's Road/Ednam Road - currently in St James's ward - have more in common with the nearby residents of Castle & Priory. There is nothing particularly wrong with the current boundaries of Castle and Priory. It is only the elected councillors who need improvement !!!
