Nuneaton and Bedworth Borough Council

Final Recommendations on the new electoral arrangements

Who we are

- The Local Government Boundary Commission for England is an independent body set up by Parliament.
- We are not part of government or any political party.
- We are accountable to Parliament through a committee of MPs chaired by the Speaker of the House of Commons.
- Our main role is to carry out electoral reviews of local authorities throughout England.

Electoral review

An electoral review examines and proposes new electoral arrangements for a local authority, including:

- The total number of councillors representing the council's electors ('council size').
- The names, number and boundaries of wards or electoral divisions.
- The number of councillors for each ward or division.

Why Nuneaton and Bedworth?

- Nuneaton and Bedworth Borough Council currently has high levels of electoral inequality: some councillors represent many more - or many fewer - electors than others.
- We are seeking to improve levels of electoral equality for local electors
- The Commission has a legal duty to carry out an electoral review of each council in England 'from time to time'.
- Nuneaton and Bedworth Borough Council has not been reviewed since 1999 and the Commission has therefore decided that it should review Nuneaton and Bedworth in advance of the elections in 2024.

Our proposals

- Nuneaton and Bedworth Council currently has 34 councillors. Based on the evidence we received, we recommend that 38 councillors should serve the council in the future.

Summary of our recommendations

We have considered all the submissions we received during our consultation on our draft recommendations.

The final recommendations propose that Nuneaton and Bedworth should have 38 councillors, an increase of four.

Nuneaton and Bedworth should have 19 wards, an increase of two. The boundaries of all of the existing wards should change.

The 38 councillors should represent 19 two-councillor wards across the borough.
