Honestly, I dont understand why we have so many councillors. I have lived in Gateshead most of my life and the only time I have seen or heard from them is around voting time. I dont think they are ever seen around other than when there is an election. Recently, our local councillor was on facebook calling people 'keyboard warriors' and posting bitching about people who vote for her and then tried to claw it back saying it was a 'first draft'. Power hungry. Get them reduced and they may be more grateful for their role. They arent doing anything for us in regards to the cost of living. Pointless
