Tatsfield has always benefitted from a local resident with local knowledge representing the village on Tandridge District Council. The village has no connection whatsoever with Limpsfield, it has unique needs. It is a rural community in the far northeast of the district, bordering Biggin Hill in the London Borough of Bromley which itself brings unique challenges. It is vital that the village maintains itself as a one-member ward with a local resident sitting on the District Council with a personal investment in the locality rather than sharing responsibility between 3 individuals who may have no knowledge or understanding of local issues.
