I'd just like to add the following points:

The Elland war memorial should be part of Elland and not Greetland and Stainland

Brooksbank school is a major part of the identity of Elland

Brooksbank school is a huge part of the culture and sporting life of elland

Cross Lane is part of the story of Elland.

Saint Patricks is an Elland school

Hullenedge park is a major feature of Elland

Elland Golf Club plays an important part in the cultural and sporting life of Elland

Elland Cricket Club is not only a major venue in Elland and thus a major part of the cultural life of Elland but is also a major player in the sporting life of Elland.

In essence you would be removing a number of institutions that are the backbone of Elland as a part of West Yorkshire but also potentially removing the essence of Elland's cultural, social and sporting identity and places in the area which people associate with Elland.
