Apart from Peel Park, there is not a great amount of scope for outdoor recreation (and even less in some other wards). This is largely because lack of transport is a major barrier, especially for people with disabilities (physical and mental). Whatever the boundaries of each ward, it would be helpful if there was at least one community minibus so that groups without their own transport can have access to cultural, sporting and recreational opportunities that are beyond the reach of existing public transport networks. This would help to achieve the Council's vision that people with a disability "will be able to access venues and activities when and where they wish".
