Bradford council have proved, for many years, that they only care about the inner city. They allowed a very poor levelling up bid to go forward for Bingley. They knew what was needed for a bid to be successful as the bid for the inner city was successful. They are nearly bankrupt after wasting money on big screens in the city, new street signs, unused bike lanes and many other unnecessary expenses. They neglect areas covering heritage and the environment. They simply have no idea or care in how to manage these areas.
