In the review/consultation documents Baildon and North Bradford fail to be mentioned. In the past 60 years Bradford has encouraged house building in this area to enable its income to be increased from rates. However, the basic infrastructure remains unchanged; main roads have been reduced from 3 to 2 lanes, but no real thought has been given to infrastructure to support the 100s of houses that have been built. The proposed new boundaries document leaves North Bradford under Bradford; i.e. status quo; nothing will change. This area should be reconsidered and given the chance to develop independently of Bradford by forming a new combined area of Shipley, Crossflats, Keighley, Ilkley and Skipton.
