At present there are two councillors for our area and I think this is too many there should be only one. Contact with councillors is very limited and the area is poorly supported. We live in a Newcastle post code area which is the same as Whickham. Whickham is not in County Durham. We are treated in this area as if we live in a Town area this reflects on insurance for property, cars etc. this should also be looked at when re-organising boundaries. Burnopfield is classed as the last outpost of Durham County. I am proud to be a County Durham resident If boundary changes are necessary they should be able to be proving to be cost effective and successful..
