Related subject: Oxshott

As a well established community, Oxshott should not be divided between and subsumed within Cobham and Claygate by the creation of a boundary down the N-S A244. Having lived in Oxshott for 30 years and being involved in social support, my experience tells me that Oxshott is far more linked, socially, geographically and commercially, to Cobham than to Claygate. Cutting our community into East and West segments would seem to effectively cut the heart out of Oxshott. In my view, if to be "taken over", Oxshott would be a better fit with Cobham than Claygate. Please reconsider this part of the proposals.
