I would love to see a return to the old Huddersfield council. I sincerely believe the area of responsibility has become too vast to be efficient. The people of Huddersfield would identify better with their own local council and it would be more beneficial for everyone concerned. The whole budget would be better controlled when local councillors are dealing with local issues not something in another town. Our town hall is a fantastic building but it has lost a lot of its significance in local issues. Even the mayor had his ball in Dewsbury not in our own magnificent building. We are one of the biggest towns in England and deserve to have our own council. Furthermore I propose removing all signage saying welcome to Kirklees and replace with welcome to Huddersfield. I hope you consider what I have said and if you put this out to a vote of the local populace I am sure the vast majority would agree with my proposal. Thankyou .
