Comment text:

Dear Sir/Madam

I strongly support the proposal to give the Washington wards place names rather than compass points. The changes to Washington are substantial and many people in Washington East, where I live, will belong to Washington South, but this will not necessarily be clear to everyone and lead to people contacting the wrong councillors. It is not obvious that what was 'East' one day will become 'South' the next. Place names would be much more appropriate. I also consider Riverside a more appropriate name for the ward that is part Washington and part Houghton. Beyond this I support the Conservatives' proposals in full.

Regards
Hilary Johnson
