Dear Boundary Commission person.

Hello

I've just been informed by my local councillor that the boundary for Fulwell is being changed (is it proposed or actually happening, first I've heard about this) and that the area I live in will be swallowed by Southwick. I'm non to happy about this as I've lived most of my 69 years in Fulwell and consider myself a Fulwell lad and definitely not from Southwick.

How come you (boundary commission person) have not contacted me to ask my opinion or informed me on the matter or do you just do things to people without even telling them you're doing it - which is at the least a bit rude and quite despotic.

I do object to this boundary change, will my objection be noted or even make a difference?
