At a meeting of Norton Parish Council held on 8 November 2023, the Parish Council resolved to respond to the Local Government Boundary Commission for England supporting that part of their Gloucestershire proposals relating to the parish of Norton, in particular the inclusion of the parish in a new Severn Vale division for County Council elections.

Norton parish is currently part of the County Council's Highnam division which, if the proposals are adopted, will be divided into two parts - Highnam with Haw Bridge and Severn Vale. The Parish Council supports this proposal as a logical way to address the increase in the existing Highnam division's electorate. The new Severn Vale division will also create a better relationship with the existing Tewkesbury Borough Council ward boundaries in this part of the county.
