Trinity is so very much a part of Stroud itself, with our councillors being very aware of local issues & concerns. I have grave reservations about being included in areas which bear no relationship to ours either geographically, or by character (rural rather than more urban). Practically, our local councillors would be trying to cover meetings & discover concerns of people at quite a distance from our area. This seems to be a political exercise recommended by those who are not involved in the realities of the situation.
