

STAFFORDSHIRE

May 2024

NEW ELECTORAL ARRANGEMENTS

Currently there are:

- 62 councillors
- 60 divisions
- 58 single-councillor divisions,
2 two-councillor divisions

Over 100 residents and organisations helped shape our recommendations

We aim to make sure Staffordshire councillors represent a similar number of electors

From elections in 2025:

- 62 councillors
- 62 divisions
- 1 councillor per division

Currently there are:

- 9 divisions that are more than 10% away from the average number of electors per ward
- 0 divisions that are more than 30% away from the average

Staffordshire will move towards:

- 7 divisions being more than 10% away from the average
number of electors per ward
- Each councillor representing an average of 11,617 electors