I wholly disagree with this proposal of splitting Oxshott into two (North and South)

I cannot understand the need for this division of Oxshott or even the time, money and effort that is still being spent in debating this. Oxshott is a small village, so if it is proportional representation you are trying to achieve I cannot understand what difference it would make. However splitting Oxshott into two will make a difference and make local issues much more difficult to resolve, as potentially two councillors would need to be involved in the decision making process taking more time and money that could be put into better use.

Oxshott needs to remain as a whole village as it has done for many years and not split up. Leave us alone and concentrate on the real issues that affect the local community instead and put our hard earned money to better projects.
