You have split Oxshott in 2, and that includes a boundary that crosses the A244 at the top of Steel's Lane so that the part of the A244 to the north of the junction sits within Esher, Claygate & Oxshott North and the part to the south sits within Cobham & Oxshott South. All of the A244 between the two 30mph limit signs (at each end of Oxshott village) needs to sit within only one division so that one councillor can be held accountable for actions to ensure the effective management of this crucial stretch of road.
