I fully understand the necessity for a review of the boundaries giving that there have been a number of substantial developments within my division. However, speaking to the residents of Barnt Green who have a very rural outlook, they are unhappy moving to a two Councillor division that includes Wythall which they feel is a long way away indeed. They align themselves more comfortably with Alvechurch and definitely feel that, should that be a single Councillor division, it would suit their needs in the same way that a single Councillor has in Beacon.
