It is my belief that the present Swindon Borough Council ward of Blunsdon & Highworth should be split into two. The town of Highworth with the hamlet of Inglesham is large enough to sustain three councillors, whilst the village of (Broad) Blunsdon should simply join its neighbours as part of the St Andrews ward, I think it would be better for the village.. As it is already its own parish with a town council, but part of Swindon, a new Highworth ward should simply include the present boundaries of the said town council, but also include Hannington and Stanton Fitzwarren. The village of Castle Eaton should be moved into St Andrew's to provide equal parity in size. The B4019 should mark part of the boundary between wards. All other wards in the council should remain as they are.
