According to the map, we have Aveley , Belhus & Ocendon. I was surprised to see small towns split this way because there is no Belhus, its just Aveley & then South Ocendon. But there are 9 in total councillors. I've never seen these councillors, heard of them and no way ever witnessed them out and about speaking on behalf of our community. I see councillors from other towns however. But all other towns only have 2 ? Towns where there is more tourism , more electors. Why have we got 9? We do not need belhus either. I suggest we have Aveley with 2 councilors and Ockendon with 2 councillors and get rid of Belhus that doesn't even exist and them 2 councillors.
