It's clear from the map that Thanet, but for Thanet Villages, is purely urban, and advantage s/be taken now by making Thanet DC, in future, purely so. i.e. hive Thanet Villages off and stick it with either Canterbury or Dover; both of which have sizeable rural areas: An essentially urban council (still sporting 39 "urban" councillors, going fwd, against just 3 "village" ones.) is just going to continue to be one that pays mere lip service this overwhelming minority.
