As ward member, I think that the natural boundary south of the ward should be the A1306, not the A13. This is because the A13 boundary splits Purfleet Road into different wards, and I believe that residents at the Southern end of Purfleet Road regard themselves as Aveley residents, and not Purfleet. The A13 is crossed by a footbridge as part of the road, so is not a strong boundary. However, the A1306 is a major road which is crossed by traffic lights, and a T-junction where traffic is managed by lights. This is actually a more natural boundary.

I would also like the name to be Aveley and Kenningtons, as they are distinct settlements, and Aveley would not seem to include Kenningtons.
