Comment text:

We are emailing in response to the proposal locally to change the Boundaries of Bingley/Baildon and Eldwick.

We do strongly object to this proposal in every way.

We live in Eldwick and it is very much a self contained Village; with its own school, Church and Post Office and strong sense of identity.

Although Baildon is only approximately 2 miles away, the villages are separated by an area of high moorland and an area of dangerous narrow twisting road which is difficult, or impossible, to navigate in bad weather conditions.

There is also no public transport services between the villages.

We really do feel that if these proposals do take place and Eldwick is divided with one area becoming part of Baildon, this can only create confusion and many problems for the residents of Eldwick who suddenly find themselves separated in various ways from their neighbours who still remain part of Eldwick.

Many people do get a sense of security and identity from the village they live in (and ,many have live in Eldwick for many years).

We really hope our opinions will be taken into very serious consideration.

Thank you.
