Comment text:

I would like to raise my objections regarding the proposed split of Eldwick village between Baildon and Bingley.

1. Eldwick is a village in its own right and has its own identity.
- 2 Baildon is 'over the moor' and has no public transport links with Eldwick.
- 3 We use local shops, when possible and the supermarket shopping is always done in Bingley.
4. I chose to live in Eldwick, and not in Baildon some 39 years ago. I am very happy with the current situation.
5. Our local councillors past and present and of any political persuasion, have in my opinion always been very helpful and approachable. Why on earth would I want to change that.

Please do not mess with something that works well and does not need changing. There are currently much bigger issues in BDMC to deal with, rather than creating unnecessary ones!

Regards
