Related subject: The Homesteads

I must protest at the proposed changes for wards in the Homesteads area of Stanford-le-Hope. This would destroy the identity of the Homesteads, a historic part of the town, in a manoeuvre devised by the Conservative council in an attempt to preserve their power base, not at all in the interests of local people. The Conservatives bankrupted the borough through a mixture of incompetence & criminal activity. They are now gone, why should their legacy also include the destruction of the electoral system in our area?

We have already lost our political identity in general elections by lumping us in with something called Basildon South. What nonsense! We are nothing to do with that area as we live in Thurrock. This is also a Tory legacy as they wanted to break up a large Labour constituency. This is political vandalism & it would be shameful if the latest proposals are approved. You need to think again!
