We live on Jill Lane in Mirfield, the map as sectioned this area off to become in the Dewsbury ward, which really makes no sense. The only access to Jill lane is via Mirfield, there is no through road to Dewsbury, all our services are in Mirfield, I shop in Mirfield our drs surgery is in Mirfield and the children went to school in Mirfield schools, so why would voting in the Dewsbury ward help me? I find it very confusing to who cut the boundary off at that point. I am presuming someone who does not know the local area.
I have only been made aware of this proposed change by one of the councillors posting this on Facebook, we have not been notified of this proposed change!
