I currently live on a housing estate in Mirfield, and the proposal moves me in to Dewsbury. I aren't happy with this proposal, as I bought the house based on it being in Mirfield. This will Impact my child's school options most importantly and would like it to be reviewed. The whole housing estate we live on feels the same. Is there going to be a meeting held to discuss? If so I would like advance notice so myself and the local residents can have the opportunity to have representation.
